JOSEPH A. McDONNELL

In Memoriam

Requiescant in Pace

James P. Murphy

High School Coach

1926 — 1932

On Saturday October 1, 1932, when the call of The Divine Master was answered there departed from among us a beloved teacher and an honored citizen, James P. Murphy.

To us, he was "Jimmy", our friend and loyal supporter; to the new members of the school and the others who will join in future years he will always be outstanding as an example of his own slogan, "It's not so much the game, boys, as the square way you play it."

History

CLASS HISTORY

By DANIEL P. DAVID

GRADUATION is here at last. It is one of the most important events in our lives, for it marks the completion of four happy years in the school of schools, our own New Bedford High. History is the branch of knowledge that records and explains past events. Let us review those merry years we have spent here.

Upon our entrance in January 1929, we elected as leaders of our class: Simon Vexler, President; Elizabeth Taylor, Vice-President; Arthur Novick, Secretary; Carl Hardy, Treasurer.

The Freshman Reception was our first social activity. It was a colorful affair, enjoyed by all who attended.

The officers chosen at our second class meeting were: Arthur Novick, President; Emilia Winiarski, Vice-President; Cora Warren, Secretary; and Elmer Radcliffe, Treasurer. However, the latter left school, and his office was filled in by the capable Irma Walmsley. Individually we found the work becoming more and more interesting, while many of our members sought new enjoyment and fellowship in the pursuit of the various extra curricula activities. Several members of the class were laying the foundations for high scholastical ratings in their later terms, while still others were struggling for recognition on the athletic field, in dramatics, and in the keen competition offered by the R. O. T. C.

As Juniors we had for our class officers Clinton Rimmer, President; Emilia Winiarski, Vice-President; Dorothy Heywood, Secretary; and Irma Walmsley, Treasurer.

The same year we held a Junior Prom, the second in the history of the school. It was a great success, and the "pep" that was lacking in Mr. Bates' punch was furnished by the dignified Juniors.

Athletics became popular with many members of our class, and our High School of late has been turning out teams of fine calibre.

Football, the most important sport, called for the following list of January, 1933 graduates James Bramwell, Arthur Novick, Samuel Gottesman, John Misiaszek, Daniel Piekut, Simon Rubin, Harold Riley, Joseph Giusti and Clarence Haskell.

In basket ball we were represented by Clarence Haskell, Benjamin Liss, James Bramwell, John Barnes, Gregorio Luiz, and Joe Giusti.

Baseball, soccer and tennis were ably represented, the latter including, Arthur Novick, Harold Allen and Benjamin Liss.

Our track-men were Joe Giusti, Clarence Haskell, Arthur Novick, Jacob Horvitz, Simon Rubin.

On the girls' basketball team we were represented by Emilia Winiarski, Margaret Smith, and Thelma Isherwood.

The list of cheer-leaders graduating include Emilia Winiarski, head cheer-leader, Margaret Smith, and Thelma Isherwood.

We have been just as prominent in the scholastic activities of the school as we have been in the athletic activities.

A large number of January, 1933, graduates are in the Honor Society. They are Selma Kuechler, Vice-President, Lillian Francis, Secretary; Herbert Ruddock, Treasurer; Emilia M. Winiarski, Irma Walmsley, Joseph Pobirs, Simon Vexler, Doris Brierly, William Spooner, Edna Colwell, Frieda Adelsohn, Thelma Isherwood, Orpha Moniz, Wladislawa Mulawka, Gladys King, and Virginia Smith.

The band, orchestra, and the glee clubs will lose many of their members as a result of our graduation.

The following are our graduating R. O. T. C. officers: Willard Hitchcock, Major; Joseph Giusti, Captain-Adjutant; Daniel David, First Lieutenant; Hassey E. Hassey, First Lieutenant; and Daniel Burgo, Second Lieutenant.

Beatrice Mills, honorary First Lieutenant, has served as company sponsor. No other class has been so ably represented in the R. O. T. C.

The graduating members of the Dramatic Club are: Lawrence Giguere, Selma Kuechler, Elizabeth Michelsen, Beatrice Mills, Vera Brown, Bernice Aillery, Margaret Foster, Doris Brierly, Florence Burgess, Eleanor MacQuarrie, Herbert Ruddock, Lillian Francis, Joseph Pobirs and Eleanor Caswell.

The events of our Senior year began with the election of officers. Richmond Gidley was chosen President; John Feather, Vice-President; Cora Warren, Secretary; and Selma Kuechler, Treasurer.

During the first term the Washington Pageant was presented, the crowning of High School dramatics in which a great many of the Senior Class took part.

Mr. Williams announced the Honor Students at the beginning of the second Senior term. They were Lillian Francis, Valedictorian; Emilia Marie Winiarski, Salutatorian; Irma Walmsley, Thelma Isherwood, Orpha Moniz, Wladislawa Mulawka, Joseph Pobirs, Herbert Ruddock, Selma Kuechler, Doris Brierly, Cezaltina Mendoza, Simon Vexler, Edna Colwell, Frieda Adelsohn, Gladys King, Virginia Smith, William Spooner.

During our second term, the New Bedford High School lost its dearly loved coach, James P. Murphy. He was a man who stood for clean, hard sport; he was sincere, kind, capable. His memory will forever remain in our hearts.

Our "prom" proved one of the most brilliant for many years; a fine orchestra, a glassy floor, and an assemblage of gayly-gowned girls and sedately-bedecked young men combined to make the affair one to be long remembered.

Then one mild January evening, the class of January 1933 gathered at the New Bedford Hotel for the last informal get-to-gether—the Banquet. A long, well balanced, and enjoyable program of giftories, prophecies, after-dinner speeches, and dancing, plus the very fine food, contributed to making the evening a very successful one.

And then came Graduation, the most inspiring and solemn of occasions. Sitting in the auditorium, we, the girls, beautiful in white, the boys, dignified in dark suits—thrilled to the sense of new responsibilities, with diplomas in hand, marched off the platform for the last time and realized that we were high school students no longer.

Our high school life is now completed—both in record and deeds, and we realize now more than ever before that the years in high school have dealt kindly with us. So let us hope that when later years will come and seem not so kind, we shall recall our high school career, its pure joys overshadowing the insignificant pains—

"And the night shall be filled with music,
And the cares, that infest the day
Shall fold their tents, like the Arabs
And as silently steal away."

Prophecy

PROPHECIES

Prologue to Prophecy

We peeped into the future
To see what it held in store
"Depression" seems to have been struck out
And replaced with favors by the score.

College Classical Course

By JOHN BARNES

SIDNEY ABRAMS

As a historian
"Sid" has great fame
If business comes as easy
We see success just the same.

HAROLD ALLEN

Harold comes from Colby
A professor with many degrees.
But he spends most his time.
Teaching French at dear old N. B.

GERARD BELANGER

As a worker
"Jerry" takes the cake
Whatever he undertakes
He'll appear first at the tape.

DORIS BRIERLY

Doris is a brilliant scholar
Whose motto is "less words and more action"
Has written many books
Which are big attractions.

ANTONE CARVALHO

"Tony" is a famous "gas" man
As most all of us see
Some day we'll see him
Administering gas to fleas.

DANIEL DAVID

Danny is a lawyer
To whom most women go
And soon we'll know him
By his fame at Reno.

LILLIAN FRANCIS

If a doctor
Lillian will be a master
If a scholar
She'll be in Phi Beta Kappa.

SAMUEL GOTTESMAN

Sammy is a quarterback
Someday he'll be seen
Giving signals
On the silver screen.

THELMA HOWARD

For Thelma, a very quiet soul
We can readily see her lot
Now her nerves are shattered
From teaching noisy little tots.

SELMA KUECHLER

"Sally" has a great deal of charm
And this we don't suppose
To her swanky night club
The crowds will surely go.

BENJAMIN LISS

"Benny" is bashful
Timid and shy
We'll probably see
Some rich blonde take him by surprise.

DANIEL LUMIANSKY

"Danny" couldn't make up his mind
What to see or be
Therefore he traveled around the world
Just for curiosity.

ELIZABETH MICHELSEN

"Mickey" bored with education
Has gone and married
Now she is the proud mother
Of a happy family.

ARTHUR NOVICK

Art possesses great speed
Which is no idle boast
He'll be the star reporter
For some leading Post.

MARY PHELAN

Mary, Mary, I try to see
What the future holds for thee
Some noted baron will court thee
And carry you far across the sea.

DANIEL PIEKUT

"Pick" is quite a guard
So the papers say
Famous just because
He'll star in every game he plays.

SAMUEL PILDIS

Sam, as you know
Is a successful business man
For him we make this prophecy
The presidency of a fruit company.

JOSEPH POBIRS

As a scholar
"Joe" is right there
We'll hear more from him
From dear old old Harvard.

SIMON RUBIN

"Si" Rubin editor of the "Brevities"
No doubt we will see
Publisher of a famous gazette
Read on every sea.

GERTRUDE SARASIN

We see a woman
Quieter than a mouse
She is none other than Gertrude
Cleaning her beautiful house.

ESTELLE SERVAIS

Estelle while visiting New York
Met a famous artist at her hotel
And low and behold
She is now his favorite model.

RALPH SULLOWAY

Ralph has left school in order
To manufacture beds
To the students who sleep in school
His helpful advice to you is
Do your sleeping, nights instead.

SIMON VEXLER

Simon who possesses rare ability
Has become a political mariner
And will endeavor to guide
Our famous city to prosperity.

IRMA WALMSLEY

The girl with the golden hair
And the eyes of blue
Who made good as a novelist;
Is none other than our Irma true.

EMILIA WINIARSKI

"Winnie's" cheer leading
Has won many a game,
Now she's in white
Helping patients to win their game.

College Scientific Course

By LAURENT GIGUERE

JAMES AMES

Jimmy is head surveyor
For the big shot, the mayor
He measures all and looks far and near
Calculating all in a book he holds dear.

ANDREW ADAMS

Andy sits high upon a stool
Surrounded by draftsmen's paper and tools.
He still boasts that lovely head of hair
Which he has always kept with care.

LESTER BROWN

"Buster" is a versatile musician
He's going to play for the Semi-Ann
Featuring a bigger and better floor-show
Which will shock the people—oh—so.

DANIEL BURGO

Danny, upon whom we now gaze,
Is walking around in quite a daze
For he has found disappointment
In love, which has led to disallusionment.

CONRAD DESMARAIS

Connie has a corking job
He sits all day and is quite the dob
In a store window easy-chair
Demonstrating with experienced care.

JAMES DRINKWATER

Jimmie is in seventh heaven
He is the tester of forty eleven
Different kinds of toys
Made for the enjoyment of little boys.

JOHN FEATHER

Johnny is a drummer;
And all the girls who are cumber
Fall for him as did they all
Whoever watched him drum at all.

JOHN FELLOURIS

Johnny although still one of us
Will soon lead a hot dog trust
He's got a contract for the Olympic Games
That's how his forefathers won their fame.

CHARLES R. GIDLEY

Dick is a man about town
He goes the town up and down
Canvassing votes from the weaker minds
For political offices of all kinds.

JOSEPH GIUSTI

Joe is a beer baron powerful
He daily rides to every bar-room full
Of ardent supporters in happy glee
In order to collect his heavy fee.

ROGER GOSSELIN

"Goose" is a handsome shiek
And all the ladies clamour for a peek
At him when he strolls upon the street
To give everyone a great big treat.

HASSEY HASSEY

Mr. X. takes a mystery role
In all dramatic episodes
Whose villain is a dark man bold
Possessing o'er the heroine a powerful hold.

WILLARD HITCHCOCK

"Willie" is the commander-in-chief
Of the munchers of the beef
Who are members of the C. M. T. C.
Which is now organized as you can see.

THOMAS JAWOREK

Tommy is now a learned prof
Who has the privilege his hat to doff
In his quite becoming manner
To all disciples under Einstein Jr.'s banner.

WALTER JWASZKO

Wally is on the stage
He's a great success at his age
For he is the exponent of the art
Of impersonating a butler's part.

WENDELL KEITH

Wendy is an announcer of acclaim
He speaks through the mike to proclaim
That lavender-eyed quahogs
Are growing in cranberry bogs.

JACOB HORVITZ

"Muscles" is a little lame
His arms and legs are sore
From trying for fame
At the Olympic games.

ROLAND LAVOIE

Roland now plays in the U. S. Band
A silver trombone from which he can
Produce many a musical blast
Which always holds strong to the last.

WILLIAM LEAHY

Bill is New Bedford's own
Aviator of great renown
A non-stop flight around the world
Has made him the idol of every girl.

ALBERT LOPES

Al gives the humor
To many a local play
We wish you luck—
We hope your patrons pay.

GREGORIO LUIZ

"Greg" is a big shot now
For as a basketball coach he's a wow,
He coaches with highest aim
At good old Notre Dame.

WILLIAM MILLER

Bill will rise way up high
To be president before he dies,
For he is the man behind the scenes
Who pulls the strings to get the bacon and beans.

JOHN MISIASZEK

Johnny who graduated from our school
Is now the football coach at our school
He talks to the boys with lightening heat
Thereby making our type of team that can't be beat.

JAMES PARKIN

"Paw" is now a veritable man mountain
A magnificent physique he has obtained
A correspondence course he pursued with zest
To make him a weight-lifter among the best.

LESTER RAMSBOTTOM

Lester loves his work
His duties he won't shirk
For it—bank checks he can't endorse
He'll sell mortgages on a dead horse.

HAROLD RILEY

"Mickey" has achieved his secret passion
He pulls them out one by one
And fills 'em with gold
He's a painless dentist bold.

HERBERT RUDDOCK

Herb is going to famous M. I. T.
To become an engineer of great renown
We hope he'll succeed wonderfully
And not forget to visit N. B. his good old town.

LEON SARIN

Leon runs a question box
A marvel he is at illiminating talks
For he loves to argue on the abstract
Rather than with too many facts.

LEONARD SIMMONS

Leonard inherited a titled fortune
Which has made him sing another tune
Now he travels through far-off countries
And delights in new and costly revelries.

AIME TETREAULT

Aime is head of a great soda fountain
Where he receives applause again
For the dexterous quick flip from the hip
Which so often brings him a tip.

PAT TIGHE

Pat is an advertisement model
Who is pictured with a novel
Smoking his pipe like a he-man
To make the girls sigh as only he can.

NORMAN WOOD

Norman still wears a bright green shirt
We'll let you in on the dirt
He's co-partner now you see
Of Tom McCann's Shoe Company.

Normal Course

By RHODA LIPSON

BERNICE AILLERY

I see Bernice society deb
A-shooting on the range
At heads, and not at targets now
Oh—isn't that so strange.

BARBARA ALMOND

Barbara is so gay
Honey-mooning in Southern clime
And we predict for Babs so fair
A grand and gorgeous time.

DOROTHY BALDWIN

Prince Charming has won Dot Baldwin
They live in a two-room flat
They possess but few worldly goods
But love each other at that.

VIRGINIA BELMORE

Virginia tosses dumbells around
Of course, we mean in gym
And in addition to her work
She gives lectures on keeping slim.

MILDRED BRADSTREET

Mildred is a policewoman now
They say she's as hard as nails
In fact we secretly know
She's responsible for filling the jails.

FLORENCE BURGESS.

Florence now teaches chemistry
Gosh—that's more than we expected
What does it mean? Why don't you see
She learned more chem than most of us suspected.

ELEANOR CASWELL

Miss Caswell has certainly played in luck
She lives without a care
And, indeed, why shouldn't she?
For she's married a millionaire.

MARJORIE DIAS

Marjorie is a poor working girl
She works, and she works all the day
And the hardest job of all the week
Is yelling for her pay.

DORIS FAGAN

As a phrenologist Doris works on the head
As a chiropodist she works on the feet
Now can you imagine the difficulty she has
In trying to make both ends meet?

ALMA FISHER

Alma breaks all records
As our own aviatrix
And has surpassed all women
Both sides of the river Styx.

DOROTHY FULLER

Dorothy swings a wicked club
When playing on the green
She's hailed as champion golfer
Wherever she is seen.

RUTH GERSTEIN

Ruth now teaches the school of law
At Harvard—or is it Yale?
And as a result all culprits
Are forced to go to jail.

RUTH JOHNSON

Ruth has become a manikin
She struts up and down the line
And for her divine figure
Every rich matron does pine.

DOROTHY LAMBERT

Dot wanted to be a teacher
But goodness, what's this I see?
She lives in a little cottage
With her husband and children three.

ELEANOR MacQUARRIE

Garbo is dead and gone
MacQuarrie takes her place
And the Hollywood directors
Welcome her charming grace.

ANNA McCARTHY

Miss McCarthy as a society deb
Married far above her station.
She travels far and travels wide
For every event she has an invitation.

BERNICE PYKOSZ

Can't you see our Bernice
Sweeping up the floor?
For, you see, she has a hubby
Besides a family of four.

ALICE REMILLARD

Alice is a private secretary
She takes dictation most quickly
Her fingers fly over the keys
Of her typewriter with ease.

MARGARET SULLIVAN

Margaret is a teacher
Of kindergarten school.
For every little dumbell
She has a dunce's stool.

LILLIAN WALKER

Lillian wanted to be a dietician
Thus to acquire great fame
But you won't see "Walker" in history
For, alas, she's changed her name.

Commercial Course

By MADELEINE DESJARDINS

FRIEDA ADELSOHN

In typing and shorthand
Frieda attained great speed.
It's no wonder then
That she did succeed.

EILEEN BACKUS

Acting ability has Eileen Backus
A dramatic actress she'll be.
Her next stop is Hollywood.
Her name on the screen we'll see.

GORDON BARITEAU

Look who's at the gay Riviera
In a French chateau
Serving large dinner parties.
It's no other than Gordon Bariteau.

MILLICENT BOARDMAN

Millie liked to laugh and giggle;
She never was a pessimist.
And now we find her listed
As a great humorist.

HILDA BOURGEOIS

Hilda will be a typist
For she can go so fast
That when you look at her
You just sit and gasp.

JAMES BRAMWELL

Who's this we hear of
Whose fame is spreading far.
No less than "Jimmie"
Our former basketball star.

GERTRUDE BRENNAN

Gert is now a poet
She always was that type
I wonder if she got inspiration
By going out at night?

CHARLES BROADLAND

Charlie never cared to speak his view
He really was quite silent
Now he's a cheer leader at B. U.
He isn't so reticent.

VERA BROWN

You'll ask if she's a teacher
Artist, clerk or poetess
I must confess my deep surprise
To learn she's an adventuress.

LLOYD CHASE

A popular star on the screen
Is New Bedford's own Lloyd
His popularity surpasses
That of Hollywood's Bill Boyd.

IRENE COSTA

Irene will be a great success
On the stage, we know
For her great humoresque
Will surely feature every show.

URBAIN COTE

Urbain plays a fast game of tennis
He's sure to be a menace
To all players of the court game
And will surely rise in fame.

EDNA COLWELL

Edna types by a window
And casts a flirting eye
At every pleasing Romeo
That chances to stroll by.

JOSEPH CORREIA

Joe is now a barber
And a good one at that
And now to make himself more fit
He must grow nice and fat.

ARTHUR COWELL

The "beau brummel" of '33
Was our classmate Arthur Cowell
He now manages a clothing store
A line in which he figures very well.

EVELYN CROSS

In some great big downtown store
Our Evelyn models fine array
Her success in this endeavor
Keeps her ever bright and gay.

EVELYN CROWTHER

Evelyn's carefree smile
Was always seen about
She's still the same old Evelyn
Of that we have no doubt.

HANS DARWIN

Hans achieved his ambition
A crack auto salesman is he
He never fails to make a sale
Whoever the customer may be.

HAZEL DESMARAIS

Hazel will work in an office someday
For some great big business man
But it won't take long before he asks
"Hazel dear, May I have your hand."

CHARLOTTE DOBSON

Charlotte runs a gift shop
Down on Boylston street
She has a line of goods
That will give your eyes a treat.

NORMAN DONINGER

Norman is a high flying aviator
And flys an Air Mail Plane
He's really a first-class pilot
Well on his way to fame.

GEORGE DUHAIME

A world renowned acrobat
Is our own George Duhaime
He's the best in the profession
All the critics do proclaim.

JOHN ENTWISTLE

A chain store manager is John
He runs many a special sale
The women all want to be served by him
For he's a handsome male.

FLORENCE FILIPEK

Florence liked to dine and dance
At some Ritzy place
Now she's settled down
And slowed her former pace.

MARGARET FOSTER

Margaret teaches the kiddies
At Foster's kindergarten school
Her pleasant personality
Makes the kids obey the rule.

ALICE GOLDRICK

Alice runs a candy shop
Where sweets and dainties abound
She's sure to make a success of
The pleasant work she's found.

SHIRLEY GOLDSTEIN

Our Shirley runs a bookshop
She sells books both old and new,
If you should ask her very nicely
She might sell some Modern "Lit" to you.

EVELINA GOMES

Evelyn teaches history
A subject she did hate
Now, I'm asking you
Wasn't that a trick of fate?

ESTHER GRUNDY

Esther has gone into business
She runs a little hat shop now
Which is a great success
And how!

RUTH HARDER

Our Ruth is now a reporter
On a newspaper of great renown,
And if there is anything you want to keep secret
You had better make sure she is not around.

JOHN HARWOOD

John always studied so hard
His success seemed assured
And his efforts were repaid
By the good position he secured.

CLARENCE HASKELL

Our Clarry is a halfback
At good old N. Y. U.
He made the All-American
What more could anyone do?

IRENE HEGINBOTTOM

Irene does beauty work
Which none can beat
In her cute shop
On Pleasant Street.

LOUISE HOWARTH

Louise is an orator
With whom none can compare
For her skill in this line
Is exceptionally rare.

THELMA ISHERWOOD

You should see our Thelma now
Thin as a rail is she
She followed a rigid diet
To attain the figure you see.

ROBERT JACK

A tennis star of world-wide fame
Is Bob, a second Tilden
He has the court stars envious
Of the records he is building.

STASIA JACKNA

Stasia is a cigaret girl
In a ritzy cabaret
She sells cigars to bachelors,
And does she make them pay?

ANNE JEGLINSKI

The crystal clearly shows to me
What the future holds for Anne Jeglinski
She will rise to greatest heights
For a business woman she'll be.

WINIFRED JOHNSON

Winnie is always smiling
Her countenance is always gay
We know her future hubby
Will never spend a gloomy day.

SOPHIE KACZOROWSKI

Zofia was a quiet girl
She never did laugh hearty
But you should see her now
She's the life of every party.

GLADYS KING

Gladys was so very quiet
We called her "Little Mouse"
Would you believe it now
She's as mischievous as Mickey Mouse.

DOROTHY LAFFERTY

A foremost fashion designer
Is Dorothy Lafferty
It isn't a bit surprising
That she reached gay Paree.

MARJORIE LANG

Who do you think is that blues singer?
She's none other than "Marge"
She's a radio entertainer
Who's following is very large.

ANASTASIA LEMAIRE

Anna married a bootlegger
Much to the surprise of all
When her father pulled a raid
He made a costly haul.

BERTHA LEVIN

The soft tone voice of Bertha
Has undergone a change
When she even whispers now
Her voice reaches a wide range.

CLAIRE LEWIS

Claire's freckles were part of her personality
We never knew her without
She used Othine Double strength
Which put the freckles to rout.

IRVING LIPMAN

A well-known director of Hollywood
With an over-sized megaphone
That's our Irving Lipman
Although he's far from home.

WILHELMENA LLOYD

Wil now runs a candy shoppe
Caramels, nougatines, mints, and creams
When you're going to throw a party
Be sure to get your sweets at Wilhelmene's.

RODERIQUE LUSSIER

Roderique has attained his ambition
He goes from house to house
Demonstrating the crazy qualities
Of a brand new Mickey Mouse.

RAMONA MADEROS

Ramona is an artist's model
She poses for artists great
The demand for her services
Is increasing at a rapid rate.

ROGER MARINHO

A second Floyd Gibbons is Roger
He talks four times as fast
At the rate he reels off his speeches
I wonder if he can last.

ALBERT MEDEIROS

Albert's on his way to glory
A basketball star is he
He's following his brother's footsteps
A flashy forward he'll be.

ANGELINE MELLO

Angeline is a stenographer
Of great reputation
Her boss says she can't be beat
In taking fast dictation.

CEZALTINA MENDOZA

A librarian in a large library
That's Cezaltina Mendoza
She knows all the big writers
But her favorite is Emil Zolla.

BEATRICE MILLS

Beatrice is down near West Point now
Among all the Army cadets
She goes to all their "hops"
On Army she always bets.

ORPHA MONIZ

As an interior decorator
Orpha's bound to be a success
For her taste in this line
Is ahead of all the rest.

MARY MOTTA

A rather unique art
Has captured Mary's attention
She's now practising sculptoring
Which she does to perfection.

WLADISLAWA MULAWKA

Waddie now treats the sick
Her course was academic
They shouldn't let such nice folks nurse
We fear and epidemic.

BERTHA NISSON

Bertha teaches Economics
Gosh—that we never expected
Which goes to show that in her course
She learned more than we suspected.

ALICE PEJKO

Alice is a wealthy young lady
With plenty of money to burn
With country homes and limousines
And admirers at every turn.

HILDA PERRY

Hilda isn't as quiet now
As she once used to be
She turned out to be a song writer
In New York's Tin Pan Alley.

ALICE PERSIN

Alice and Ray are happily married now
They live in a cute love-nest
They have everything they desire
To add to their happiness.

HELEN PODWAPINSKA

Helen will get married
And be a quiet lady
She'll have to stay at home though
To mind her little baby.

MARY POLCHLOPEK

Mary is a swimming star
She's in every aquatic meet
She's headed for the top we know
And has Helen Madison beat.

STASIA PYKOSZ

Stasia is a violinist
Even better than Rubinoff
Perhaps she'll give us a concert
If she ever gets any time off.

ANNE RYTELEWSKI

Clara Bow and Alice White
Have nothing on our Anne
She's like the Northwest Mounted
She always gets her man.

ADELAIDE SEMAS

Adelaide's neatness is reflected in
Her home at Oyster Bay
She keeps everything so bright and shiny
Her husband never strays away.

MARGARET SMITH

A cheer leader is Margaret
At famous Notre Dame
With such a charming leader
They'll always win the game.

VIRGINIA SMITH

Virginia could learn no more
Of the Ben Pittman style
She invented a system of her own,
Which beat Gregg and Pittman by a mile.

BILL SPOONER

Bill now runs a harem
Out in the desert wastes
It must have been a power great
To make Bill change his tastes.

ARTHUR STERLING

A married man is Arthur
He sports derby lids
He married rather young you know
Now he's surrounded by kids.

CLARENCE SWIFT

Clarence is a columnist
Eclipsing Winchell's style
He knows all the latest gossip
Thus beating Hellinger by a mile.

INEZ SYLVIA

Inez is a waitress
She serves both young and old
Her customers are always satisfied
The food is never cold.

AGNES TAKACH

Agnes is a clerk in a bank
With large accounts to keep
With the long hours she has to work
It's a wonder she has time to sleep.

BETTY TAYLOR

Betty went to be a nurse
And brought her cheer along
No wonder then her patients do
Get big, healthy and strong.

ELSIE TEXEIRA

Elsie's hair was her crowning glory
It was influential in her life
She modelled the newest coiffures
And now she's a hairdresser's wife.

HELEN WAINER

Helen always were the best
She was first with the latest styles
Now she has so many clothes
You could heap them into piles.

SPIRO WALASAKOS

Spiro is a coach
In a private school in Greece
Never until they learn the plays
Can his pupils rest in peace.

CORA WARREN

Cora was always a happy sort
For others' happiness she thought
She still retains her cheerful smile,
And joy to many she has brought.

LILLIAN WAXMAN

A school marm of excellent standing
Is running a private school
Lillian makes the kids obey her
By threatening "Dunce, Cap, and Stool."

THOMAS WEAVER

Tommy is an editor
Of a leading New York paper
He never has a minute off
To play, relax, or caper.

ADOLPH WIATER

Adolph is now a conductor
On a so-called choo-choo car
He struts up and down the platform
Smoking 2 for 5 cigars.

DOROTHY WILCOX

Dot never gets excited
When she faces a strife
She will never do things hastily
When she faces the problems of life.

CHARLES WILLIAMS

A soldier of fortune is Charles
He travels in countries afar
He's been to everywhere there is to go
Except to Zanzibar.

ETHEL WINN

A born comedienne
Is Ethel Winn
She's going to Broadway
Where her career will begin.

Prophecies of the Prophets

JOHN BARNES

John followed his father's footsteps
A famous surgeon is he
To all other doctors his skillful hands
Are an object of great envy.

MADELEINE DESJARDINS

Madeleine will be a nurse
That is very plain to see
Her cute little smile and charming personality
Will make the sick feel merry.

LAURENT GIGUERE

Laurent's cheer and mirth
Are reflected in his new profession
You see he's a Santa in Toyland
A role he fills to perfection.

RHODA LIPSON

If Webster were living today
He certainly would meet defeat
For our Rhoda is an orator great
With whom none can compete.
